MIDDLEWEST ENGRAVERS

We dedicate the 1954 Medley to every facet of Danville High School life that has left an impression on us:

To our teachers for developing our minds;

To our clubs for developing our hobbies and special interests:

To our athletics for developing our bodies and sense of fair play:

To the administration and everyone whose job it was to see that our school ran efficiently:

To our advisers for knowing "how to do things" when we had problems;

To the student body who furnished the reason for publishing a yearbook in the first place.

THE MEDLEY STAFF.

This year's Medley is built around dual themes. We have tried to refresh in the minds of our readers those rights which are a part of our American Heritage, and the way in which they are practiced in our schools. We should also like to show how, through the schools, qualities which will make people better able to appreciate and preserve these rights and assume their responsibilities in the future, have been developed in individuals.

City

In the attempt to make our city schools the best possible, Dr. J. McLean Reed has put forth a praise-deserving effort. His job as superintendent of the Danville City Schools has been a large one, but has been very capably handled. Not willing to stop with this huge job. Dr. Reed has extended his talent to many civic organizations. In patience, knowledge, and understanding have made him a friend to all who came in contact with him.

The secretarial staff of Superintendent Reed's is one that is deserving of all praise and recognition that can be given it. Administration

For the past five years, Dr. H. Williamson has led the Board of Education in its struggle for the betterment of public schools. The board was composed of civic-minded people who gave freely of their time an effort to make the schools function smoothly and properly. With the aid of the seven members of the board. Dr. Will amson has done much toward this Cause.

High School

Mr. E. D. Milhon, principal of Danville High School for the past six years, has put forth much time and effort toward a better and more complete education for teen-agers. Being the father of a teen-age girl, he has learned that understanding and sympathy of everyday problems were most needed in making a success of his position. It was in using this knowledge that Mr. Milhon became the friend he was to all students.

As director of guidance, Mr. E. A. Bates performed various tasks. Students came to him for help in rearranging programs, adjusting schedules, and for counset in preparation for college. One of his most important tasks was that of supervising scholastic tests. Throughout the year several personality IQ and vocational guidance tests were given to students who were interested. All Seniors were required to take tests on the Constitution of the United States and the State of Illinois, thus adding to the already heavy burden carried by Mr. Bates.

Administration

By using his wit and wisdom toward gaining the friendship of all Danville High School students and faculty members, D. V. Schoolcraft has become one of the most popular persons in DHS. It was through his guidance as Dean of Boys that many have been influenced toward better futures. Some of Mr Schoolcraft's wise sayings such as 'The empty cart rattles the most,' will long be remembered as a part of life here at DHS

Few of us ever stop to consider the job that is actually done by the maintenance staff of DHS. It is the job of these hard working men and women to keep the school neat and clean both inside and outside. Few of us stop to real ze just how much extra work we cause them, especially after basketball and football games. Because of their willingness to help few of us know that it is not their job to come to the aid of students on special jobs such as cleaning up dropped ink bottles.

Head custodian, Mr. Earl Hartshorn, had the job of caring for stage scenery, lights, curtains, and other articles in the auditorium. Without his assistance it would have been impossible to present the various plays, assemblies and music is put on by the organizations using the DHS stage.

PTA

The Danville High School PTA, composed of parents and teachers interested in promoting the we fare of their own and other children in the home school, church, and community, met four times this year.

The programs for 1953-1954 were of wide variety and interes. At the September meeting the fres man parents were honored. All whill attended toured the building and later were served refreshments in the Home Economics Department. A task on juvenile problems was featured at the November meeting by sociologist James Cook. Seven past presidents were present at the February meeting at which a firm on world trade was shown. A judent panel was the highlight of the April milling when DHS stidents were honor.

For many years students at D.H.S. have enjoyed belonging to the many clubs found here. Beside the fun of association with friends there are many benefits to be gained from club work. One of these is the oppor tunity to dislover and develop new hot bies and special interests. In four years of club membership a student learns to be a follower with opport in ties of developing into a leader. A student also profits from expressing his own ideas and in turn listening to the ideas of other students and claer experienced people who appear before him. The right of free assembly then means much to our school.

The first yearbook was published back in 1904 and since that time it has been recording the high lights, the fun, the tears, and the joys of life in DHS. Each year though the goal of the book has remained the same, the staff has striven to improve it in every way possible.

Early in the year the job of the business staff began with an assembly at which time subscriptions were taken. It was the job of Bill Hannah a his staff to keep track of all records showing payments on subscriptions.

Selling add to businesses in town began early in the year too, and the whole Medley staff took part in this. Howard Redding and his assistant, Carl Groen were in charge here and it was their job to see that pictures for the ads were taken, copy wa obtained, and that the advertising section was correctly is diout.

Information about clubs, sports, and activities was gathered all through the year and Mary Bernard and her assistant. Phyliis Prast, were kept busy writing these for Medley use.

It was the job of the editor, Larry Alen, and his assistant. Phil Ribbe, to determine what pictures must be taken and then how they would be used in the book

The theme of the book was decided by the editors and all work was under the guidance of the adviser. Miss Frances Watkins, and her co-advisers, Miss Betty Sullenberger, Mr. Ralph Espy, and Mr. Finley Hogbin.

Cub Staff

Yovaish

Potential journalists could be seen gathered in room 302 each morning during homeroom. Under the instruction of Miss Helen Conover, the Cubs became adept in all stages of producing a newspaper. They were taught to lay out a paper, to write heads, news stories, and features, and to proofread

Later in the year, the Cubs put what they had earned to use. They published two issues of the paper. Jane Palmer was named editor-in-chief, and Iulia Laker was co-editor. Other ed —s were news Linda John in and Rose Paras; sports, John Deck and Bob Burow; make-up, H — Elain and Caro Stickler; photographers, Jim Cunningham and Ivan Read artist, Wally Yova'sh; ad lay-outs, Esie

Walker, Bob Burow, Jack'e Mervis and copy and proofreaders. Nita Timmons and Carol Henderson.

Every Friday morning bits of news that had been gathered through the week were turned in to Miss He en Conover and then under her direction were written as articles to be sent to the main staff in case space needed filling or some news had been by their reporters.

Whenever a vacancy arose on the Maroon and White staff the Cub who had put forth the most effort was given the opportunity to advance. Cub Staffers worked hard with an eye to the future and the time when they would be members of one of the major publications.

An organization which was composed of presidents of various clubs, publications editors, athletic captains, and the representatives elected by their respective classes, Student Council gave the student body a voice in the activities of DHS. The council planned many assemblies and sponsored parties and projects. It met on Thursdays, sixth hour, in room 246

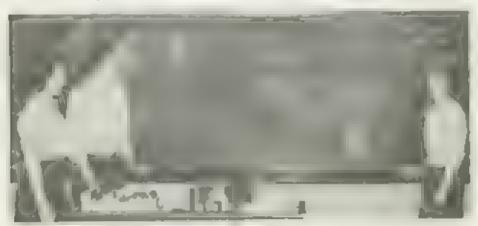

In the fall, the council tried a novel method of electing cheerleaders. Try-outs were held and the varsity cheerleaders were selected by the group made up of homeroom representatives and Student Council members. Student Council also sponsored Homecoming. The profits from the dance provided for paid assemblies, and it sent delegates to the State Student Council Convention. Other activities included the Courtesy Campaign, Talent Show, Al-School Party, Medley Signing Party, Student-Teacher Panel Discussion and the elections in the spring Members of the Council had a picnic and hike at Turkey Run in April.

Several groups attended conventions and visited high schools in this area. They went to the State Convention in Chicago, District Convention in Hoopeston, and visited schools in Indiana.

President Joe Fox headed the organization this year, and he was assisted by the following officers: Ted Smith, vice-president; Carol Bahls, secretary: and Bill Stott, treasurer. Miss Helen Thompson was adviser for the Council.

Dramatic Club

Dramatic Club, one of the few DHS clubs whose membership was placed on a competitive basis was one of the largest school organizations. Membership was based on try-outs held before a committee of faculty judges in the fall and new members were introduced at the first meeting.

Each member of the club had a chance to perform at least once a year as one-act plays under student directors were presented at the meetings. In addition, the Dramatic Club play was given in February. This year a three-act comedy, "Stag Line," was given. In the way of so a events the club's outstanding project was the annual alumni Christmas ban quet, at which time some of the returning alumni furnished entertainment.

Most of the credit for the success of the club was due to the work of their adviser, Miss Mary Miler, and their officers, president, Mari Anne Davison; vice-president, Richard Castle; secretary-treasurer Virginia Divan; play critic, Janet Korngiebel; and play manager, Fred Mauck.

The Prigrims spread their first Thanksgiving

Wranglers Club

Any student in high school who was interested in public speaking and debating was given a chance to express himself at Wranglers Club. This club, the second oldest in DHS, was originally founded in 1911.

This year, in observance of Thanksgiving, the ciub planned and presented the annual assembly. The program consisted of skits readings, and songs. This assembly helped DHS students view more clearly their reasons for being thankful.

One of the most interesting meetings was the one based on a Hawaiian theme. Miss Ruth Sande son, head of the Social Science department, who had recently visited Hawaii, was guest speaker. Student speakers discussed the progress over 100 years Hawaiian music, and the prois and consing statehood.

A special homeroom was for members of Speakers Bureau. This part of the club was open to any Wrangier who had given two speeches and was approved by faculty judges. During homeroom the orators learned and practiced their speaking abilities.

Richard Castle headed the club as president. He was assisted by vice-president, Sharon Myers; secre tary-treasurer, Marilyn Mackin; membership chair man, Pat Rhode; program chairman, Tom Hawkins; and social chairman, Connie Sutton. Nancy Freese was president of Speakers Bureau. Mrs. Grace Sprouls and Miss Ruth Sandeson were co-advisers of the club.

Writers

All phases of writing were discussed at Worth While Writers' Club meeting. The purpose of the club was to develop creative skills and a better appreciation of prose and poetry. This club is open to anyone interested in writing, and one original writing had to be submitted for membership. Regular members handed in their writings throughout the year. These writings were read by the critic, who kept track of all writings, corrected and some were published in the Maroon and White. Other writings were read at meetings

President Mary Bernard led the club through its successful year. Highlights of the year included a Valentine party, when everyone made an original valentine; a movie on the fundamentals of writing talks on how to write; a spring picnic; and a radio program on which members read their writings.

Mary was assisted by the following officers: Joanna Kleiner, vice-president: Marilyn Gogerty, secretary, and Joyce Rindt, treasurer. Phyll's Prast served as literary critic, and Cabinet chairmen included Judy King, program chairman; Kathryn Gugin, membership. Miss Boyer was adviser.

Field trips to interesting places in Danvilleland were the highlights of 53-54 season. Trips included a visit to Sandusky's Furniture Store. Another interesting meeting was presented by Bess Fullerton, who gave a demonstration on making handicrafts, including jewelry. At these regular meetings on every third Tuesday, discussions on different phases of art were held. Art Club membership was open to any student in DHS interested in art were made by art-clubbers. During the Christmas Season, members made the Christmas display in the north half, including the papier mache figures under the tree. Art Club was also in charge of the distribution of tickets for the All-School Party.

Art Club was also active in activities around DHS. All of the programs for the Homecoming Dance

Under Miss Betty Sullenberger as adviser, the following officers headed the club: Nancy Ostenburg, president; Mary Ann Pichon, vice-president; Jackie Roberts, secretary, and Irene Hafner, treasurer.

What are flying saucers? The answer to this and other such questions, was discussed at meetings of Science Club. Student demonstrations and films added variety to the meetings

Science Cub held meetings the first and third Thursdays of every month. The purpose of the was to promote an interest in science, to protect the aims of science, and to study the uses of science and everyday life.

Led by President Richard Crang, this club porticipated in many educational activities. Member made several field trips. The trips included an exploration of the DHS tunnels and visits to the Danville City Waterworks, the Museum of Science and Industry in Chicago, and to the University of tlinois Engineering Open House. Other activities included an annual Christmas party and the presentation of a radio program as a part of the requar Radio Staff broadcasts.

Other officers for the year included vice-president. Alan Huffer secretary-treasurer, Evelyn Deattre; reporter, Bob Laury. The club was advised by Mr. Harold Seip and Mr. C. O. Johnson.

Hi-Y

President Wayne Mingee led the Hi-Y members this year. Their meetings, held the first and third Wednesdays at the YMCA were open to any boy in high school. Guest speakers included the high school coaches, John Eckert from WDAN and Jake Higgins from WITY,

Other activities included the sponsoring of dances after the games and the "Sweetheart Supper." Mr Doug Monahan, State Boys' Work Secretary, told about his trip to Europe and his exceriences.

Two representatives from the club were sent to the Youth and Government Program at Springfield where Carl Essinger served as the Chapla'n of the Senate. He was elected at a meeting in Champa'gn which several of the boys attended. The officers also took part in the Hi-Y Tri-Y Clinic at the Decatur YWCA

An annual spring picnic at which the new officers were elected closed the year's activities. Serving with the president this year were Norman Katz, vice-president; R. David Brown, secretary; Bill Cornwell treasurer; Roger McMilian, chaplain, and Mr. Haroid Seip and Mr. Glen Murphy, advisers.

Every first and third Wednesday the Phylis Wheatiey Y-Teens met either in room 244 at DHS for their business meetings or at the Y for a program. These programs were planned to interest any Y-Teen. Panel discussions and qualified speakers were featured at these bi-monthly meetings.

One of the main projects of the year was that of setting salt-water taffy. Miss Kathryn Watts' room was headquarters for this project. The taffy was sold to DHS students and faculty Projectors Club, organized as a part of the Dan ville Audio-Visual Department six years ago, has rapidly become an important part of life around DHS. The club was responsible for the showing of all movies used in class work and also took charge of movies at the All-School Party.

It was only necessary for members, all boys who were trained in the use of projectors, to operate in one class period a week. A schedule was kept in club adviser Miss Grace Brandenberger's office and the boys checked with her on the schedule to see when they were to be operator.

The club with a membership of 56 had its own homeroom for the first time and Miss Helen Worff and Mr. Bennett served as homeroom advisers.

Howard Carithers served as president of the club this year and his fellow officers were: vice-president, Phil R bbe; secretary, Ed Meyer, and treasurer, Dave Clendenen.

Future Teachers of America

Members of FTA were either juniors or seniors who were interested in the teaching profession. Any student who was taking the Introduction to Teaching course was automatically a member. Meetings were held during class the first semester and once a month the second semester.

At these meetings members discussed top is per taining to teaching, such as problems of teaching disadvantages, advantages, requirements, and qualifications. Students also discussed situations they encountered white practice tenning

The one-semester course was divided into three reriods. The first six weeks the class read books

At one meeting, a speaker from Eastern Illinois State Codege spoke on the teaching profession. Former members of FTA gave their opinions of their choice. The class also presented speeches at Hoopeston High school for a vocational program. Another activity was being co-sponsor of the Homecoming parade.

The officers for '53-54 were Arlene Hodgson, president; Jean Wade, vice-president; Dan Winand, secretary; Betty King, treasurer, and Mari Anne Davison, social chairman, Miss Katherine Stapp, teacher of the class, was adviser of the club.

Trips to various industries and businesses in Danville and Chicago offered valuable education and experience for FDA members. The highlights of the Chicago trip included the Merchandise Mart, Federal Reserve Bank, Museum of Science and Industry Chicago Stock Exchange, and Kroger Bakery. The Danville visits included Paxton's Warehouse. Consolidated Products, City Hal, First National Bank and Florsheim Shoe Company.

Other activities included several parties held throughout the year. One outstanding social event was the Bosses Banquet held at the Boat Club. The club sponsored a skating party and sock hop at the

Illini Roller Parace, Six members attended the State FDA Convention at Springfield. The club also spon sored a trip to Washington for Seniors

FDA consisted of members of the Distributive Education Class. This class, open to any senior in terested in entering business, attended school in the morning and worked in the afternoon. These people learned the various aspects of working through Mr. Newtson's lessons and personal experience.

The class elected the following officers: Larry Laker, president; Dick Pierce, vice-president; Sharon Griff th. secretary: Carol Beltrone, treasurer, and Patricia Dickson, reporter.

Joyful songs and music echoed from room G202 during first hour every day. There the A Cappella Choir, under the direction of Miss Pansy Legg and accompanied by Miss Helen Wolff, worked hard to achieve perfection for its various performances. Friendship and sportsmanship were also emphasized throughout the year.

This active group was busy preparing for some event almost every day. Several civic organizations called upon them to present music programs. Work was begun at the beginning of the year for the first major production, Fall Concert. Immediately following this, members began practicing for the Christmas Assembly. Another Yuletide event was caroling in the halls by the music students. After the holidays it was 'back to work' as preparations for the annual Moments Musical started. This year the choir recaptured the spirit of the days of the old west. Next the Big 12 Music Festival was held in Danville, and finally came the graduation exercises.

However, all of the choirs activities werent work. Parties were held throughout the year, especially after each major production. At the Swing Ding in April, awards were presented for work in music.

Officers for 1953-1954 were the following: Pat Hurley and Ted Smith presidents; Bill Cornwell and Janice Mahoney, vice presidents; Kay Taylor, secretary; Mari Anne Davison, treasurer; Carl Nobe, monitor, and Margo Lombom, Donna Evans, Jean Sumrall and Lucia Hatton, librarians.

Euterpeans

Just as members of the chorus classes hoped to become part of A Cappella. A Cappella members aspired for Euterpeans. It was quite an honor to achieve this goal, Becoming a member of this se lect group was difficult, for Euterpeans were chosen on the basis of several qualities. These included voice quality, dependability, and showmanship. The chief activity of this group was the presentation of the first unit of Moments Musical. The more difficult vocal arrangements were done by Euterpeans.

This year, for Moments Musical the eighteen couples danced and sang to the tunes of Irish melodies in A Spot In Old Ireland." The perfection and harmony were the results of hard work and long practices. Every night after school from early January until late in March, the group rehearsed its complicated routines. Although it was hard work, each member admitted it was worth it.

This group of eighteen couples sang and danced The Kerry Dance." Next, Fred Mauck sang about The Tumble Down Shack in Athlone." Patricia Henk flitted through My Name Is Keny," as she portrayed the Rinnce Fada Dancer. The entire group combined talents to present "Sweet Collean." Solo ist Jack Drews asked "How Are Things in Glocca Morra?": Elaine Milhon and John Mitter joined to gether in singing "The Danovans." Finally, the curtain closed on the 1954 group of Euterpeans.

This group was under the direction of Miss Pansy Legg and was accompanied by Miss Heien Wolff.

Many students offered valuable services to their school. These students voluntarily gave up one study hall each day to perform any one of several duties. They served as monitors, office assistants, or switch board operators. To qualify as any one of these, the students had to have an average of at least "C" in all subjects.

The monitors directed the traffic in the halis during the lunch hours. It was their duty to keep students out of the building where es were in progress, and to prevent students from eating food outside the cafeteria.

Office assistants worked in the offices of the dean of girls, dean of boys, and Mr. Bates. These assistants typed, collected attendance slips, delivered notices, filed, and performed other office duties.

Switchboard operators operated the switchboard in the main office. Miss Helen Thompson, Dean of Girls, directed the work of these students

Varsity Football

The football Maroons, in their second season under coaches Ray Grierson and Don Pittman, started out on the right foot with an impressive 13 to 6 win over a heavier Crane Tech team.

Continuing in high style, they upset the highly rated Kankakee team 6 to 0 on home ground. Taking to the road for the first time and for their first Big 12' game the Maroons next met Urbana and their first defeat 26 to 19.

A highly polished Thornton team gave the gridmen their worst beating of the year. Next came the homecoming game with Champaign in which Danville led for three quarters until a lucky pass tied the game 13 to 13, as it ended.

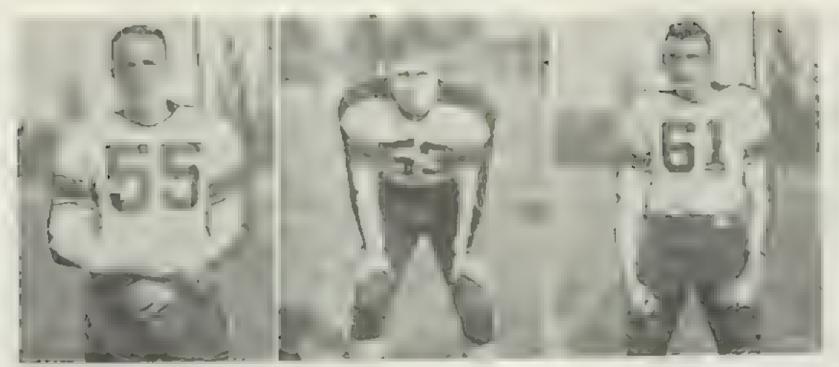

Back on the road again, the Maroons journeyed to Clinton, Indiana, where the two teams battled in freezing weather to a 13 to 13 tie. The last game of the season was played in the spacious Pekin stadium.

The coaches and Jerry discussed factics

Reserve Football

The vision of someday becoming members of the varsity football team propelled the junior gridmen on to an undefeated season. This team of hardworking freshmen and sophomores was scored upon only twice and was tied twice. The success of the season is a good omen for continued good luck on the varsity squad.

The first games with Urbana and Champaign, both ended with a score of 0-0. The team scored two touchdowns to defeat Catlin, 13-6. Games against Oakwood and Georgetown were decided victories. The team collected 31 points against Oakwood's 0, and 26 against Georgetown's 0. The final game against Westville again saw the Maroons victorious 13-7.

This reserve team deserves praise for its successful season. It was coached by Mr. Arnold Ave and Mr. Joe Ward.

Cross Country

A successful season was completed by this year's Cross Country team. DHS harriers finished first in four out of six dual meets and one triangular meet at Champaign. The team also placed third in the Big 12 conference meet at Urbana and fourth in the ISHA District meet, also at Urbana.

The harriers faced teams from Bismarck, Urbana Paris, and Champaign. All of these teams except

Urbana fell before the Marcons,

Through the fell of the year the boys could be seen until late in the evening practicing on the DHS track, thus the reason for their success.

Captain Frank Marana led the team and Marvin Blanton was elected most valuable. The DHS Cross Country team, coached by Mr. Charles Ross, elected John Miller captain of next year's team.

Undefeated on its home floor, the DHS varsity feam surprised its fans. Having only one returning etterman, Frank Estes, it was not expected to complete the season with a total of 14 wins and only 6 losses. After leading the Big 12 race throughout the season, the DHS Maroons shared a four-way tie for first place with Decatur, Peoria Central, and Lincoln.

DHS basketball fans witnessed many close, exciting games. Two games, with Central and Manua of Peoria, saw the Maroons come through with only one point victories. Another close game was the one with Hoopeston, Danville finishing on top 46-44. All the close games did not have such a pleasant outcome because Bradley and Pekin maintained two point leads to give them wins over Danville. Champaign, the DHS arch-rivals, got revenge for the first game of the year which saw Danville the winners when they met the DHS Maroons the sec and fime as they slipped by them 73-65. The only other teams to leave Danville behind were Urbana Kankakee, and Paris.

Ocops!!! Estes went up!!

The Pontiac Christmas Tournament saw Danv leafinish with three wins, finally being defeated by New Trier. This gave DHS fourth place in that tournament. For the first time since 1951 Danville came out on top in the Regional tournament at Danville. St. Joseph, Georgetown, and Westville fell to the Maroons, giving them the ticket to the Sectional at Champaign. Rantoul and Hoopeston succumbed to the powerful DHS team and Danville entered the Sweet Sixteen for the first time in three years. In the first game of the state tournament Danville bowed out to the eventual Sweet Sixteen champion. Mount Vernon with a score of 54-61. This close game climaxed a successful season for a team which exhibited good sportsmanship and co-operation.

The player who was chosen as the most valuable was Captain Frank Estes. Estes was high scorer for the DHS team, second-high scorer in the Big 12 and he broke a school record set by Ron Rigoni in 1951. The team elected guard Bity McMains to captain the '54-'55 squad. Coach Art Mathisen directed the team through the surprising campaign.

Difficult tasks, which seldom were noticed or praised, were performed by the managers of all sports. These boys worked behind the scenes assisting the teams and coaches. Their work usually began before the teams were organized, and it continued after the season closed.

The jobs which occupied the managers' time varied, and they included distributing sports equipment and uniforms, checking bus schedules, keeping individual records, and performing other odd jobs throughout the season. The teams and coaches were dependent upon the efficiency of the managers, and they were seldom disappointed.

Even though the spectators never realized it, the managers worked just as hard as the teams themselves. They shared their teams' outlooks both before and after the game. The managers had the opportunity to observe teamwork in action. Without co-operation between the teams, coaches and managers, successful seasons would be almost impossible. Cheerleaders

A new system of selecting cheerleaders was in'tiated this year. Members of Student Council and homeroom representatives chose five girls after two try-outs. These girls, Ruth 8.ue, Odette Andre, Pat Langford, Juanita Palmer, and Ariene Hodgson, were cheerleaders for both the reserve and varsity games. Charles Zanin and Richard Castle were added to the cheerleading squad dur ing the football season.

Dressed in the school colors of maroon and white, they led the crowds at football and basketball games. As cheerleaders it was their duty to instill enthusiasm in the student body and to make up new cheers. These cheers were introduced to the student body at pep assemblies.

Cheerleaders who accumulated 100 points or more received a letter through B.A.A. for their services.

"Stag Line"

"Stag Line," selected by Dramatic Club as its production for this year, proved to be exceptional. The three-act comedy, by Anne Coulter Martens, was written chiefly about adolescents, and it presented problems that typical American teen-agers managed to create.

The play was based on the preparations for the marriage of Sylvia Mason, Maudie's older sister. Maudie, one of the more popular girls in the neighborhood, was accustomed to having her own way with both males and home problems. She deemed herself custodian of the wedging plans; however, something dign't go as smoothly as was hoped. One nvitation, intended for the Mrs. Smith who was a client of the bridegroom's, was accidentally mailed to the dressmaker, Mrs. Smith. Mac, an old friend of the bridegroom, Jerry, created tension in the romance because he gave him every reason to believe Maudie tried to squirm out of a situation.

Moment

Viewers of 1954 Moments Musical were taken on a trip across the Atlantic to "A Spot in Old Ireland," presented by the Euterpean Singers. Dressed in traditional Irish peasant clothing, this select group rendered six lively selections. The bright green skirts and shamrocks swayed merrily as the singers gave vocal and dance interpretations of "The Kerry Dance." Fred Mauck sang the solo part for "The Tumble Down Shack in Athlone." The entire group joined in the siging of "Sweet Colleen." Patricia there a the kinn & Paga Dat er par ears M Name Is Keliy." Two other typical Irish songs, "How Are Things in Glocca Morra?" and "The Donavans," concluded the program, Jack Drews, Elaine Milhon, and John Miller shared vocal honors in these fina numbers.

Music a la Carte, 'by the DHS band and orchestra, was featured in this unit of the show. This talented group presented a wide variety of numbers, ranging from classical selections to original creations. Included in the unit were "Dancing Tamborines" by the clarinets, 'Flute Cocktail," by the flutes, and "Hollywood Serenade.' Two original numbers, "Jungle Drums" and "Serenade to an Insomaniac," which featured Richard Castle, were both amusing and entertaining. Dancers provided various interpretations of 'Ballet Par'sienne." Intricate drill maneuvers were exhibited by the DHS majorettes to 'Sound Off." Many other numbers were also featured in this enjoyable unit, which showed the versatuity of the band members.

Freshman Class

When the class of 1957 first entered DHS, it was timid and frightened, as was any new class. The experiences of attending classes, joining clubs, meet ng new people, and enjoying presentations had various effects on these greenies, for they are now better equipped to handle their daily lives around DHS

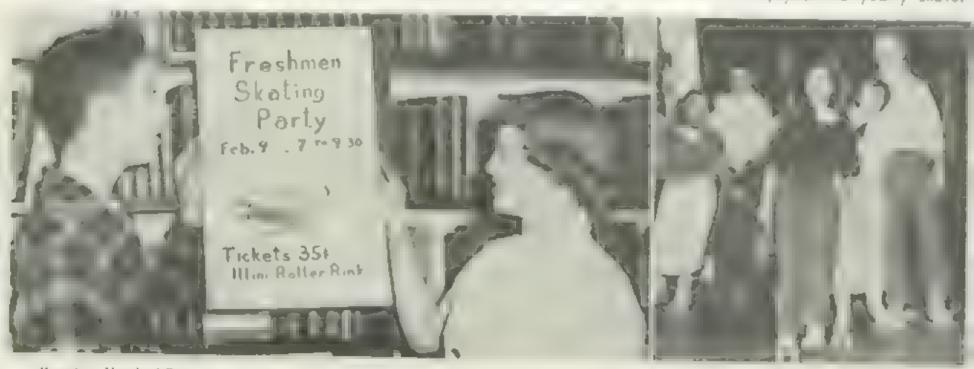

Anticipating the thought of becoming sophomores, the freshmen finally discarded those initial looks of greenness. This active group, now better acquainted with the habits and customs of DHS students, was prepared to assist next year's freshmen.

The highlight of the year's social activities was a freshman skating party held at the Illini Roller Palace in February. This funpacked event was planned by a committee of class officers, Cooperation and hard work made this party one these students will never forget.

Under the guidance of adviser Mr. Frank Dugas, the class elected its officers in the fall. Those elected included the following: Charles Ferris, president; Judy Coan, vice president, Marilyn Coopersmith, secretary-treasurer; and Sue Budnovich, Larry Shanks, and Marilyn Coolley, student council representatives. It was under the capable leadership of the adviser and class officers that the class of 1957 completed a successful school year. The sophomore year held the outlook of many opportunities and much pleasure yet-to-come.

Chuck and Sue read about the party.

A big crowd of freshmen enjoyed the yearry skate.

Junior Class

The class of 1955 will soon enter its last year of high school. This group has completed a full, happy junior year and taken its share of school responsibilities.

The Juniors sponsored the first dance of the foot ball season in the DHS gym, assisted with the A School Party, and gave the traditional Junior-Senior Prom. Social co-chairmen, Janice Mahoney and Judy W liamson, were in charge of the Prom and committees were appointed to complete the arrangements. Miss Helen Wolff, Junior cost adviser, assisted with the plans

Phil Livengood led the class through its third year. The other class officers were Lela Shull, vice president: Marilyn Mackin secretary-treasurer Janice Mahoney and Judy Williamson chairmen: and Carol Bahls, Dean Bates, and Pat Langford, Student Council representatives

In Memoriam . . .

Danville High School was saddened near the end of last year by the death of Florence Hires. A member of last year's class, she had been forced to leave school because of idness and had expected to graduate with the class of 1954. She was a good student and well-liked by all who knew her. In Danville High School she was a member of Y-Teens, She was also a member of the Calvary Baptist Church. Florence was the daughter of Mrs. Mary Hires and was born June 5, 1934 and died May 22, 1953.

Best Boy and Girl Citizens

The highest is or that a Senior can obtain is that of being chosen by his classmates as best boy or gir citizen, an honor which is based on honesty, dependability, scholastic standing, leadership, service and personality

This year's Senior Class chose Patricia Stickler and Bill Hannah as leaders in these fields

Par took an active part in Study t Cour it and served her class — c'ai Cherman her Sop more and Junior years. She was active in Dramatic Club and had a part in "Sno Haven—the production of the club her Junior year and a so had a part in this year's Senior Class Play, "Remember the Mayne.

Bill, as president of the Senior class, also took an active part in Student Counci. This was B1's second year in the capacity of class president, as he also served his Junior year. His other activities included being circulation manager of the Medley and center on the basketbal team.

The Daughters of the American Revolution and Girls Club presented the Best Girl Citizen awards and Kiwanis honored the Best 80v Citizen.

Students learn of free enterprise • •

One of the American rights with which high school students have close contact is that of free enterprise in business. Students see examples of free competition in the ads of newspapers and magazines. Because merchants know that teen age purchases of such things as clothing and other merchand se make up a large part of their business they use their best salesmanship tactics in order to draw the crowd to their store instead of the one across the street. The students now faced with a decision of where to buy must determine which merchant offers the best advertising to make his products seem the most desirable.
